

Jonny Lang "Still Rainin'"

Visit "Still Rainin'" on MotoLyrics.com

Clouds, one by one, fill the sky
Just like these tears that fill my eyes
I know by now she ain't comin' back
And I watch my world slowly fade into black

Look out my window, it's still rainin'
Look out my window, it's still rainin'

They say that time heals everything
I've felt the pain that love can bring
And it don't get no better with each passing day
Any hope I had is slowly slipping away

Look out my window, it's still rainin'
Look out my window, it's still rainin', still rainin'

I thought the morning would rescue me
But the rain keeps falling so endlessly, endlessly

Sometimes I wonder what'll become of me
There ain't much left of what I used to be
Her love shone on me just like the morning light
But now here I am alone again tonight

Look out my window, and it's still rainin'
Look out my window, still rainin'

Look out my window, it's still rainin'
Look out my window, still rainin', still rainin', still rainin'

Visit Jonny Lang page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.