Yah, I don't know if i'll ever see you again, yah You looked so lost I don't know where you've been Oh Yah

Can you tell me why you ran away and made the dark your light?
Can I take you home and bring you in the light

Well you mite think that should not want it to get any better,
And in a way that mite be true,
But workin one more night will only make you better,
There aint much more you can do.

Yah, The streets are so lonely they call your name, yah, Why would you ever want to play that game?
Oh Yah, People come and go and and get there bits of what you offer them,
Can I take you home because you'll never win.

Well you mite think that should not want it to get any better,
And in a way that mite be true
But workin one more night will only make you better
There aint much more you can do

Jump! Well its safe to say whats goin on is getting the dough,
Take it from me a middle class night for a turn about run about,
Well get your cash,
Well Motel 6 will get you nowhere, Pack your bags your on your way, wo wo wo
wo wo wo
