Jimmy was a poor man he's six feet tall and he lives on the floor in a great big doorway on the street where his feet stick out through the holes in his shoes and he's got old Clothes on his back and a sideways hat fat lipped and a grin got hairs on his chin he says hello boys, hello girls won't you come and sit with me

He says oh, what would you like to say and he says oh, what do you like about me

(Chorus)

Jimmy what, Jimmy what, Jimmy what you goy for me said

Jimmy what, Jimmy what, Jimmy what you got for me I said Jimmy what, well i said Jimmy what have you got
for me

Don't say, don't say, don't say, don't say to me what you got for me

Crusty grass in your pocket stop it throw it away and stay clear of the smoke and the subway broken glass on the floor and it bloody stinks, you don't even care Jim another drink will take away your fears of living life today but not for long my friend it'll be back again like the wind and the rain soaking your skin and the cardboard house that your living in
He says oh, what would you like to say
and he says oh, what do you like about me

(Chorus)

Jimmy what, Jimmy what, Jimmy what you got for me said Jimmy what, Jimmy what, Jimmy what you got for me

I said Jimmy what, well i said Jimmy what have you got
for me

Don't say, don't say, don't say, don't say to me what you got for me
He says (don't say) He says (don't say)

So go and take a walk with me Jimmy come and see what your missing don't struggle and buckle under the trouble no more six billion people and we've all felt down in the silence

Don't let it beat you, and don't let it beat you and don't let it beat and don't let it beat you down, woah oh ah oh

(Chorus)
Jimmy what, Jimmy what, Jimmy what you got for me said Jimmy what, Jimmy what, Jimmy what you got for
me
I said Jimmy what, well i said Jimmy what have you got
for me
