It's like I'm sailing on the ocean
Every time I see your eyes
You could be the wind that keeps me floating
I could be in heaven for all I know
Heaven's a place for me to go
No one ever could have told me how
No one ever could have told me how
Heaven could be here on earth

I know your heart is very tender
Your soft touch the breeze of life
In your arms I feel a comfort
I surrender in your smile

Hold me close for just a while
No one ever could have told me how
No one ever could have told me how
Heaven could be here on earth

The gentle waves of love in motion
And the warmth of summer sun
In your love I need no compass
My direction has begun
Could you be an angel sent from God
No one ever could have told me how
No one ever could have told me how
Heaven could be here on earth
