What am I doing here
Living out a dream
The vision is finally clear
Of what it all could really mean
What am I doing here
Heart, don't listen to my mind
I've got nothing left to fear
I've played it out a thousand times
Do I have a chance
Or might I stumble and fall
Could it be my time to shine
My time to have it all
And will someone else's
Fate be linked with mine
Will my place be
Etched in endless time
All the hope, the quest
The love of humankind
And the rest of it
Depends on how
We try to make it end
What am I doing here
There's just no place I'd rather be

I've never felt so aware
I memorize everything I see
Oh, do I have a chance
Or might I stumble and fall
Could it be my time to shine
My time to have it all
And will someone else's
Fate be linked with mine
Will my place be
Etched in endless time
All the hope, the quest
The love of humankind
And the rest of it
Depends on how
We try to make it end
All the hope, the quest
The love of humankind
And the rest of it

Depends on how we try
To make it end...
With the help of one
Good friend...
To give the best I can
That's what I'm doing here
