(Jordan / Neigher)

Is there a reason why you're so handy with the knife
You cut me up inside then say love me like your life
I try to defend my self-respect
But it's getting harder when you always think that you know best

Chorus :

Your love is winding me up
Your love makes push come to shove
Your love is winding me up
Baby I can't get enough
I have spent the whole night crying
After one of your remarks
You set me up like you're trying
To see if I will fall apart
I'm the fool in this story
And it always seems to make you laugh
And you won't rest until you break my heart in half
