All of life's little layers
Piling up and over me
Sipping tea from a wineglass
Sitting on a dirty carpet
I got this Jesus on my wall
And little Queen in my pocket

(Chorus)

But I'm in too deep, down in the dark
And I'm in too deep, no light from the sparks
And I'm in too deep
Can you find me a way out?

July suns burned what mattered
Right through the skin now in this bitter end
Do you think, do you think, do you think that you understand me?
Know me?
No, you don't know me
Do you understand that you don't understand me?

(Chorus)

So it's midnight in the millennium
But it's so much darker than before
But maybe it isn't any less
But it surely isn't more
And 1999 went and slipped away
So I trade this future for some stones
1999 is gone forever
And it ain't ever comin' home

(Chorus)

Cause I'm in too deep, down in the dark
And I'm in too deep, no light from the sparks
I'm in too deep
Can you find me a way out?
And I'm in too deep, holding the reigns
And I'm in too deep, counting the trains
And I'm in too deep
Can you find me a way out?
