It was just the other day
You inquired, "Are you happy with me?"
To which then I replied
"Are you losing your mind?"
I've got more, so much more than I ever required
But if you really want to pin me to the sticky details
I thought about it twice
And here's what it revealed

If you really must ask
Just do that, just do that
As a matter of fact
Just do that, just do that
Just do that thing you did that time that I can't get out of my mind
As a matter of fact
Just do that, just do that

I assume that you forget
You're the "it"
You're the perfect fit
I'm not sure, what that means
But you know what I meant
You're above and beyond You're as good as it gets
But if you really want advice I won't even think twice

I'll lay it on the line and keep it real this time

If you really must ask
Just do that, just do that
As a matter of fact
Just do that, just do that
Just do that thing you did that time that I can't get out
of my mind
As a matter of fact
Just do that, just do that

You know I love you almost all of the time
It's a guess why you'd question anything
You're the answer and as sure as I breathe
If this won't settle it I guess I better shut up and sing

If you really must ask
Just do that, just do that
As a matter of fact
Just do that, just do that
Just do that thing you did that time that I can't get out
of my mind
As a matter of fact
Just do that, just do that
