I'm already looking back
I'm already looking around
Where do we get off the track?
What was it that brought us down?
I'm already waking up
Or how I've been to sleep too long?
Losing you is hard enough
Not knowing anything was wrong
Changes come, but where they go?
You never know

Just another day like any other
Nothing in the sky said "run for cover"
Just another reason
Never thought it would end this way
There was no parade
No lights flashing
No song to sing along the way
There was no parade

Story was supposed to last
You were never supposed to plea
Just somebody in the past
Somebody I used to see
Trouble crept up on us
A warning that never came in time
Before I knew that we were dust
Just left behind, left behind
Changes come, but where they go?
You never know

Just another day like any other
Nothing in the sky said "run for cover"
Just another reason
Never thought it would end this way
There was no parade
No lights flashing
No song to sing along the way
There was no parade
No waves crashing
There was no one else around for days
There was no parade

And after all the noise I never heard
Our last goodbye was as silent as a butterfly

There was no parade
No lights flashing
No song to sing along the way
There was no parade
No waves crashing
There was no one else around for days
There was no parade
No parade... (No parade)
