I'm seeing break lights,
that means he's leaving me again.
This is like the eighth time,
I guess I'll see him in the morning.
Cause he'll come back,
he always does.
And then we fight and then we fuss again,
back to the beginning.

But we seem to make up every time.
But when we don't break up
the fault is mine.
But before we fall out again,
there's something you should know.
I'd hate to see you leave,
but I'd love to watch you go. Go, go.
Love to watch you go. Go, go.

I'm seeing daylight,
and I'm still alone in my bed.
Something ain't right,
so should I go to him instead?
I messed up this time, I always do.
And then we fight and then
we're through again.
Back to the beginning.

But we seem to make up every time.
But when we don't break up
the fault is mine.
But before we fall out again,
there's something you should know.
I'd hate to see you leave,
but I'd love to watch you go. Go, go.
Love to watch you go. Go, go.

Who's gonna help me save us?
He made us, want again.
Will he take me back this time,
after what I did?
He has no idea,

why he should spend one more night here.
Its over again.

But we seem to make up every time.
But when we don't break up
the fault is mine.
But before we fall out again,
there's something you should know.
I'd hate to see you leave,
but I'd love to watch you go.
But we seem to make up every time.
But when we don't break up
the fault is mine.
But before we fall out again,
there's something you should know.
I'd hate to see you leave,
but I'd love to watch you go. Go, go.
Love to watch you go. Go, go.
