I fell like a shooting star
Landing in your arms
Then you let me go
You still hold a part of me
Or maybe all of me
And you don't even know
I know it's strange that I still feel the same
After all this time on my own
But I never knew that when I lost you
I'd learn to love alone

I thought I'd need you by my side
To keep my love alive
But I would learn
My heart with each passing day
Could give itself away
With nothing in return

I know it's strange that I still feel the same
After all this time on my own
But I never knew that when I lost you
I'd learn to love alone

I know it's strange that I still feel the same
After all this time on my own
But I never knew that when I lost you
I'd learn to love alone
