Hey, it's been a while
So how you been?
You're looking good
You know I can't believe it's really been a year
Hey do you remember
When we'd sit and talk for hours
On that rusty park bench not too far from here

It's funny how things change
But somethings never do
Somethings never do

I'm still that girl
The one that you wanted
The one that you promised everything
I still have that heart
The one that you've broken
I guess it's still hoping you'll come back to me
So I can make you see
I'm still that girl

Hey do believe like I believe
In second chances
There's a reason that I saw you here today
Do you think it's possible
We're meant to be together
And goodbye's a word that we can never say

Maybe it's just fate
Out of our control
Baby don't you know

I'm still that girl
The one that you wanted
The one that you promised everything
I still have that heart
The one that you've broken
I guess it's still hoping you'll come back to me
So I can make you see
I'm still that girl

Don't you recognize me anymore?

I'm still that girl
The one that you wanted
The one that you promised everything
I still have that heart
The one that you've broken
I guess it's still hoping you'll come back to me
So I can make you see
I'm still that girl
