We are sailing stormy water
Sinking souls in the blackest sea
Crawling hellhounds evil has been found
Feeding death to the war machine

Are you lonely you're not the only one
Feeling coldness in the burning rain
In your heart you're haunted by the life you wanted
You bleed your sorrow somewhere
Down tomorrow's road

Nobody knows what we are living for
Godless fire raging higher

There's something going on below
Under the surface so much deeper
Than this dark hole
We must find the secret eye
Break the chains and learn to fly

Fallen ages, kings and dreamers
Quest for power since the day the world was born
We keep on trying but we can't stop lying Finding reason when the truth is hard to feel

You better watch out for the wicked man
He's gonna steal your crown before he takes you down

There's something going on below
Under the surface so much deeper than this dark hole
We must find the secret eye
Break the chains and learn to fly

Going under my ship of wonder
Drowning slowly as the pain is leaking in
From the sunlight to the frost night
Hope is fading on a silent wind

Something's going on below
Under the surface so much deeper
Than this dark hole

If we can find the secret eye
We lose our chains and learn to fly
And we must find the reason why
