[Jorn Land/Tore Moren]

I wanna wake up to a brand new morning
Dance in the sunlight when there's love in the air
I wanna see that we can live together
Control the fire and pass on the flame

Deep in the heart I feel sorrow and pain
I can't find the words it's so hard to explain
The bridges we build will burn down
The bridges we make will fall down down down

And so the story goes predictable and senseless
I fear a future so wicked and cold
Gazing from the outside looking inside for a reason
Been searching high and low
But I can't find my way back home

Deep in the heart I feel sorrow and pain
I can't find the words it's so hard to explain
The bridges we build will burn down
Yeah, the bridges we make will fall down down down

Deep in the heart I feel sorrow and pain
Tears in my eyes they keep pouring like rain
The bridges we make will fall down
Yeah, the bridges we build will fall down here
Deep in the heart I feel sorrow and pain
I can't find the words it's so hard to explain
The bridges we build will burn down
The bridges we make will fall down down down
Bridges will burn

I wanna wake up to a brand new morning
Dance in the sunlight when there's love in the air
I wanna see that we can live together
Control the fire and pass on the flame
I've searching high and low
But I can't find my way back home no

...and we are aiming higher higher and higher and higher

And higher and higher
