[Jorn Lande]

I've been loosing many battles
I've been confused - too many days on the run
But I've seen the sunrise on a coloured blue sky
And hopes and dreams has always glowed in the dark

I've been blinded by directions
I've never known just wich way to go
But my intuition always one decision
On the road I have been
A stranger at the scene
And my love forever glowing in the dark

Casting shadows
From birth to the dying
We're lost in the shade
Everything's made
It's been so hard to carry on

Take my hand and we'll walk the waters
Of the world - like soul mates in the sun
Holding the fire - burning desire
Come and let the feeling show
Make our love forever grow
And the spirit glow in the dark

Casting shadows
From birth to dying
