I was born to be a storytelling man
I spread the word across the land
A voice of hope a chant for peace
That's my way that's my release

Rainbow shaker on a unicorn ride
I spread my dreams across the sky
No more howling winds of war
Give me power hear my roar... Yeyeahhh

I'm calling all stations
Earth is ringing the bell
Out to every nation
There's a warning to tell
Feel the mountains tremble
See the floods of despair
Stormy sea only you and me
Can make the world see

Been digging deep into my soul
Before I found what I was loocking for
So hard to heal the damage done
Keeping memories as the song goes on

I play my music till I die
Around the world you hear my cry
And I thank you all for joining the sound
Restless hearts unite as one... Oh yeahhh

I'm calling all stations

Earth is ringing the bell
Out to every nation
There's a warning to tell
Feel the mountains tremble
See the floods eveywhere
Stormy sea you and me
Will make the world see

Who is your ally
In this world of terrorism
Who is your ally

In this world of terror

I was born to be a storytelling man
I spread the word across the land
Across the land

I'm calling all stations
Earth is ringing the bell
Out to every nation
There's a warning to tell
Feel the mountains tremble
See the floods eveywhere
Stormy sea you and me
Will make the world see
I'm calling all stations
I'm calling you
Can you hear me... yes
I'm calling all stations
Out to every nation
I'm calling you
Feel the mountains tremble... Oh Lord
Stormy sea you and me
