Summer time, kids in the street
We were up on the roof laughing at the heat
That was the last I ever saw of you

Now it's December, cold and dark
No more rainbows over Central Park
In this house no window has a view
No, there's no love here without you

When you gonna come back home
When you gonna see it's been too long
When you gonna come back home to me

When you gonna come back home
When you gonna see it's been too long
When you gonna come back home to me

Standin' at the door and I turn the key
I'm holding my breath half expecting to see
You lyin' on the bed, smilin' up at me

I'm goin' crazy 'cause I just don't know
Which way, which way your heart's gonna go
I only pray it leads you back to me
Darlin' let your heart lead you back to me

When you gonna come back home
When you gonna see it's been too long
When you gonna come back home to me

When you gonna come back home
When you gonna see it's been too long
When you gonna come back home to me
To me, to me, to me

Darlin' let your heart lead you back to me

When you gonna come back home
When you gonna see it's been too long
When you gonna come back home to me

When you gonna come back home

And see it's been too long
When you gonna come back home to me

Come back home to me, me
Come back home to me, me
Come back home to me, me
