while the crowd is waiting for the final kiss the one which allows them to sleep well we walk along the wrong path the one which lead us to our own blessed

we need hints
before we get tired
but we need hints
before we get tired
now we need hints
before we loose pace
now we need a hint to know we'are on the right track

we need hints
before we get tired
before we get tired
now we need speed
before we loose pace
