How sad it was to say goodbye when we adored each other most even the swallow emigrated foreseeing the final...Sonu Āġnceden gĀġrmek

How sad looks everything without you the seas are leaving the beaches and the colours are turning grey everything is loneliness now

I don't know whether I'll see you again I don't know what'll happen to my life without the blue star of your being which doesn't shed its light on me anymore

I want to relish my pain today I'm not asking for compassion nor pity the story of this love was written for eternity

How sad say everyone that I am that I am always speaking of you they don't know that thinking of your love, of your love (is how) I've been able to live, I've been able to live.
