sitting on the M25,
i got a packet of gum and a boy by my side, windows rolled down to let the breeze in,
because it's quite hot and summer is the season,
to feel alive,
to feel alive.

Holding hands all day,
makes 'em quite clammy but it's all okay,
'cos he makes me smile,
he makes me happy,
telling me i'm a beautiful girl, the most beautiful girl in the whole wide world.

And i don't know,
if i'm just lucky,
to have found a person that understands me when i
say,
pick me apart and uncover my heart,
it's yours.

walking round theme parks is well fun when you've got the company of that special someone to go on all the rides but still be by your side when that roller coaster looks a bit too high steal glasses from the 4-d show hide them in our jumpers and see how far we go put them on in the photo on nemesis inferno cos we're cool.

And i don't know,
if i'm just lucky,
say,
pick me apart and uncover my heart,
it's yours.
