I live, Head up in the clouds. Hush-hush dreams, don't let it out.

i have a notion in myself that we all could save our souls without your help.

Cause I don't wanna be the last kind of my kind
That sounds like a lonely existence, six billion dead without a soul liberated.

Revolution number nine. Oh, will we pull him out in time?

I can't imagine a world where everyone does nothing that they want to, that's no fun

I can't imagine a world where they're all dancing and we're the only ones who hear the song

I need somebody to care but i seems there's something in the air

I once had some toys I loved but they're all swallowed in the mud and rusted.

Cause i would gladly be the first one here to die.
If it would open your eyes
