Leave you with all my thoughts
Think about where we, where we start leaving
Thought about you everyday
Even when I lost my head like this like this
She was everything I ever wanted and She made me believe how much time we have
I don't want to live this way
I feel like I'm

Losing sight of you
You slipped away now you're out of view
I'm letting go, let it ride until the city glows
I never know where I'll end up or where I'll go
Well beyond my reach

She wasn't ready for me
I never could do anything else right but love you

Maybe in time you will see
What happens to us when we're torn from our friends know that
When you coming back to me
I won't be around to see
So where you at now
Where you at

Losing sight of you
You slipped away now you're out of view
I'm letting go, let it ride until the city glows
I never know where I'll end up or where I'll go
Well beyond my reach

Didn't really care if I wasn't enough
Didn't really care if I wasn't in love
Didn't really care if I wasn't enough
Didn't really care if I wasn't

Chorus
