You were only 18 when I met you,
And I liked all the things you were into.
We talked so much and I made you laugh
And you always knew I'd have your back so
Why oh why Is she with some other guy,
They're all the same baby they're all the same when I oh I could be that better guy, to sweep you off your feet,
And make you fall for me
But oh one thing that I know, it wont be so simple for me
Well I made this list I wrote it down
With all the reasons to stay in this town.
And on the top I saw your name, but the rest were all the same (oh!)
So call it a crush or what you must but you know That it hurts so much to fall in love with,
Someone who hardly knows your name
And I had a question;
Why oh Why Is she with some other guy,
They're all the same baby they're all the same when I oh I could be that better guy, to sweep you off your
feet,

And make you fall for me

But oh one thing that I know, it wont be so simple for me

When you, when you say those things you do,

I swear they leave me so confused

And I. I'm never sure if I should try to be that better guy,

I had a question

Why oh why are you with some other guy, they're all the same baby,

They're all the same

When I Know I could be that better guy To sweep you off your feet,

And make you fall for me but ohhhh one thing that I know,

It wont be so simple for me

Why oh why Is she with some other guy,

They're all the same baby they're all the same when

I oh I could be that better guy, to sweep you off your feet,

And make you fall for me

But oh one thing that I know, it's gonna take a little patience from me
