It said I'm over you, and that we're through,
So you should just move on,
'Cause I don't need you, and I don't want you
And I don't love you anymore

You stood there crying, I stood there lying,
Trying to convince you to let me go
'Cause you deserve a man who, will give all he has Just to make you his whole world,
That was something I could never do,
So go on girl, leave me behind

If you don't leave now I know I'll hurt you,
'Cause love won't change the man I know I am,
I'll have to ask myself the hardest question,
Am I the best she's ever gonna know,
The answers the reason, I got to let her go

If you don't leave now I know I'll hurt you,
'Cause love won't change the man I know I am
I'll have to ask myself the hardest question,
Am I the best she's ever gonna know,
The answers the reason I've got to let her go

Well I still love you, I'll always need you,
I know I'll miss you, now that you're gone
I know I am not the best you'll ever know,
'Cause I loved you enough to let you go
