My heart was in mint condition
I never imagined
It could feel this way, babe
Broken, it's not just broken
It's shattered on the ground
Pieces can't be found

When you said goodbye
I knew I'd hurt inside
But I thought I could let you go

It's not raining, girl its pouring now
And I'm drowning here without you love
I don't just whisper
I don't just say your name
I keep crying out
Screaming at the top of my lungs

I've seen, seen the world fall on me
But I got back on my feet
And i moved on
So tell me what it is you did to me
I'm scared to fall asleep
Afraid of what I'll dream

But when you said goodbye
I knew I'd hurt inside
I guess I didn't know
Girl how could you be so cold

It's not raining, girl its pouring now
And I'm drowning here without you love
I don't just whisper
I don't just say your name
I keep crying out
Screaming at the top of my lungs

I keep thinking you might hear me
If I say it loud enough
This is so much more lonely
It was so much more than love

It's not raining, girl its pouring now
And I'm drowning here without you love
I don't just whisper
I don't just say your name
I keep crying out
Screaming at the top of my lungs
