Gazing down on fields faraway
Staring out at all I see
I've just returned from a war that's lost
The only foe I had was me

No retreat from the forces I fought
Believing I could only win
And from grace to the ground I fall
And I am human again

I saw myself untouched by hate
But I was much too numb to feel
And that angels that carried me away
Let me know that they weren't real
(But I am)

And not matter how strong this vision was
It was not of who I am
And from grace to the ground I fall
And I am human again

Hold me now until I sleep my love
And follow me down, follow me down
I will not be so scared anymore
As long as my feet don't leave the ground

And I'm staring down at fields far away
Surrounded by this dream I'm in
And from grace to the ground I fall
And I am human again
