Yeah, I found you there on my front steps,
Mascara eyes and a threadbare dress,
Said is it ok if i stay for a while?

You were talking fast and feeling down
So you spent the week, he was out of town
Woke up alone, I should've known you'd be gone

I'm tired of being your other guy
I wanna be more than your good time

But your love is breaking my heart
Come on little pretty
Let me out of your dark
Oh isn't it a pity?
In a Cadillac with the back seat torn out
Looking back I should have turned it around
Love is breaking my heart
So let me go little pretty

Oh tell me baby what's you plan?
Cause I don't really understand
There's gotta be a way for me to get to you

Yeah, I got you in when you lost your key
And scored some pills so you could sleep
I went home, woke up alone thinking 'bout you

I'm tired of being your other guy
I wanna be more than your good time

But your love is breaking my heart
Come on little pretty
Let me out of your dark
Oh isn't it a pity?
In a Cadillac with the back seat torn out
Looking back I should have turned it around
Love is breaking my heart
So let me go little pretty

Don't you call me up when you're in need

Don't you baby
Cause i'm in too deep I can barely breathe
And I'm tired of trying to tell you

That your love is breaking my heart
Come on little pretty
Let me out of your dark
Oh isn't it a pity?
In a Cadillac with the back seat torn out
Looking back I should have turned it around

Now love is breaking my heart
Come on little pretty
Let me out of your dark
Oh isn't it a pity?
In a Cadillac with the back seat torn out
Looking back I should have turned it around
Love is breaking my heart
So let me go little pretty, yeah
So let me go little pretty, yeah
So let me go little pretty, yeah
So let me go little pretty, yeah, yeah
So let me go little pretty

Breaking my heart, baby won't you go to sleep
