He's got a secret to tell you
She got a promise to wait
Somebody's gonna get hurt here
And someday he's gonna be free
Someday he's gonna see

He's got a problem to solve here
She's gotta figure it out
Somebody started this problem
This is why he can't relax
This is why he's gonna pack

Chorus:
His clothes are neatly folded
His bag is already loaded
If she had just seen his point of view
This would be a different situation
A different situation

A thought is running through his head now
A thought that he can't figure out
Baby, he caught his problem
In the things he lied about
In the ways he used to shout

Chorus:
His clothes are neatly folded
His bag is already loaded
If she had just seen his point of view
This would be a different situation
A different situation

285 through the backyard
The spring of the door snaps the frame
Baby I made a mistake here
Gonna make it up to you
I'm sorry for what I put you through

And she said,
"Your clothes are neatly folded
Your bag is already loaded

If you had just seen your point of view
This would be a different situation
A different situation"
