That moon sure takes its time chasing the sun out the sky
Baby, I can't wait to see how that twilight reveals you while I
Count every star in your eyes
And if it takes all night, let me turn every page of your life

Girl, you're gonna love me learning you
Just keep sweet talking me
Girl, not much this crazy boy won't do
To get all tangled up in your mystery
Yeah, your cotton sheets for a lifetime or two
Oh, girl, you're gonna love me learning you

Before I keep fallin', I need to know just one more thing
Baby, like how many kisses before you get tipsy on me
Girl, I'm just dyin' to see, oh, whatever it takes
To get you to trust every move that I'm making

Now, girl, you're gonna love me learning you
Just keep sweet talking me
Girl, not much this crazy boy won't do
To get all tangled up in your mystery
Yeah, your cotton sheets for a lifetime or two
Oh, girl, you're gonna love me learning you

Yes, you will
Can't wait to find ourselves lost in each other
So many things I can't wait to discover

Girl, you're gonna love me learning you
Oh yeah, just keep sweet talking me
Girl, not much this crazy boy won't do
To get all tangled up in your mystery
Yeah, your cotton sheets for a lifetime or two
Oh, girl, you're gonna love me learning you

Oh, girl, you're gonna love me learning you
