fold yourself against me like a paper bird
tonight we'll fly awhile
just give me the word
and hold onto me
like I hold onto you
a steeple holds a bell
the night sky holds the moon melting flakes of snow
will catch you when you fall Baby that's not all

then like falling stars back down to sleep will go into our waiting arms
in orbits round the glow cover lets and down
will catch you when you fall Baby that's not all
