Around me the shadows
Of women and men
And they all walk right through me
And I walk through them
And I cast by my back
And I cannot believe that I'm
One of the lucky ones
You happened to see me through

The trouble will remain my
See me through
As the scales fall from eyes
See me through
Darlin', darlin', darlin'

Now where are the statues
Colossal and bronze
That stood at the gates of
Our great love and kept watch
And now over the hills
Over the horizon somebody's army advances and I
Have faith in you darlin'
Even when I question our chances

Yeah trouble will remain my
See me through
As the scales fall from my eyes
See me through
Darlin', darlin', darlin'
See me through

I woke up this evening
So lonesome and torn
Of a blackberry blackness
But a sweetness in thorns
And I cast by my back
With the love that we made
And I need to believe it
For some kind of plan
With all this pain
It's getting harder to see it

Trouble will remain me
See me through
The scales fall from my eyes
See me through
Darlin', darln', darlin'
See me through

The trouble will remain y
Trouble will remain my
Trouble will remain mine
Trouble, trouble, trouble will remain mine
