Well I met a man and he gave me advice
I didn't want it at first and I said alright
He said "You live each day like the very last one"
So I took that down and I wrote this song
He said:

It's all in the air,
It's a lot like magic,
We make do with the bears I would have.
Is just still all you want
Some things bound to happen
So I just shook his hand
Forgot about my plan.

So I rode my bike up the Sycamore hill
I thought all, I thought long on the right with you
I had a lot of fun with a long little girl
And we threw our arms round this hum drum world.

It's all in the air,
It's a lot like magic,
We make do with the bears I would have.
Is just still all you want
Some things bound to happen
Forget about those plans
The future's here I am.

Yeah, the days and the months and the months and the year
My children have grown and I'm still standing here
I still live each day like the very last one
I'll rise with the furs and I'll set with the sun

'Cause it's all in the air,
It's a lot like magic,
We make do with the bears I would have.
Is just still all you want
Some things bound to happen
Forget about those plans
Forget about those plans.
