Is it in your hair, camera stare
Is it physical?
There's no way to know

Could I be that strong?
Open up your heart
Let the sun shine in
Who really cares

All the promises that you wore
They've all been swept under the door
All the people inside your dreams
They've become reality

You are a star, it is natural
With your head down low
Could you bear the cost
That you can't afford?

Could I be that strong?
Open up those scars
Let the world fall in
You really did
Did you come back, kid?
