There's so many things that I need to do
Seems like nothin' gets done when I'm feelin' so blue
And it's so hard to handle this absolute truth
That you're so not around and I'm so into you

You're so not my baby, it's makin' me crazy
It's breakin' my heart and my world half in two
You're so not my baby, hey, I should be okay
But you know what? I'm so not over you

I keep ringin' and ringin' your old telephone Seems like the more that it rings the more that you're gone
And I oughta hang up and just let you go
But a voice in my heart keeps sayin' hello

You're so not my baby, it's makin' me crazy
It's breakin' my heart and my world half in two
You're so not my baby, hey, I should be okay
But you know what? I'm so not over you

I've been searchin' and searchin'
But it just gets me down
'Cause your love and affection
Is nowhere to be found

You're so not my baby, it's makin' me crazy
It's breakin' my heart and my world half in two
You're so not my baby, hey, I should be okay
But you know what? I'm so not over you
Know what? I'm so not over you

So not my baby
So not my baby
