I did it again
She walked away before I could get my two cents in...
She did it again
She got the best of me
I know how to pretend it seems...
If this were a game
She'd be kickin my ass
And if this were a race
I'd be in 2nd to last, 2nd to last
But I'm not gonna sit this out...

I should've said...
I shouldn't have let you get that one on me again
But then again I think I've said that before
I should've said...
I shouldn't have let you get away so easily
Let's say I even up the score

There's so many things that I could say
I'm not the only one to blame
Like the time you did this...
Or the time you did that...
Did it seem to slip your mind?
But I keep it all in
Cause I know in the end
I would rather be yours
Than just be a friend, oh a friend
But I'm not gonna sit this out

If you would just listen up for a second
Maybe you'd see
The world is ours for the taking baby
And I only have you to stand by me...
