I'm thirsty, God I'm thirsty from drinking what destroys me

I'm pouring poison in my cup

I'm hungry, God I'm hungry consuming what controls
me

Somehow it never fills me up

We all want to find something to pass the time

But that could never be enough

Everybody says we're all so different

But everybody knows we're all the same

We're all trying to find a pill to numb the pain

Something's got to change

Do you remember when you had so much hope within you?

It lingers deep inside you still

The more of us we swallow, the more we become hollow

Until we don't know how to feel

We all want to find something to satisfy

But we could never be enough

Everybody says we're all so different

But everybody knows we're all the same

We're all trying to find a pill to numb the pain

Something's got to change

When everything we say and take just leads to war and hate

We only pass the blame, sedate the pain and move along

But something feels so wrong, so deep inside, so hard to hide

So desperately we try and try and come to find

That we are not what we've been looking for

I can't believe I'm hearing people say that all is well

I think it's time we all admit we have no good within ourselves

'Cause we are not okay, we're not alright and we need to pray for help Forgive us for our pride, oh God, oh God please save us from ourselves

'Cause everybody says we're all so different
But everybody knows we're all the same
We're all trying to find a pill to numb the pain
Something's got to change

So God help us
Something's got to change
Something's got to change
So God help us
Something's got to change
So God help us
