

Joshua James

"I'll Just Let My Piano Play"

Visit "I'll Just Let My Piano Play" on MotoLyrics.com

Been working on a song for you,
A simple melody.
Something just to let you know,
How much you mean to me.

Tryin' to find the perfect lines,
But the words put up a fight.
No matter how hard i try, i just can't say it right,
I love you, so much more, than words could ever say.
So i just let my piano play

How could i describe the way your eyes look into mine?,
I could never do justice to the way, your love makes me
shine,
I love you, so much more, than words could ever say,
So i just let my piano play

If i could turn my voice to thunder as i sing these words
to you,
If i could be the morning sunlight on your face.
Maybe then my song would do,
But i am just a minstrel and music is my trade.

How could i write a song for you?,
When you're every love song, i have ever played.
I love you so much more than words could ever say,
So i just let my piano play.

If i could turn my voice to thunder as i sing these words
to you,
If i could be the morning sunlight on your face.
Maybe then my song would do,
But i am just a minstrel and music is my trade.

How could i write a song for you?,
When you're every love song i have ever played.
I love you, so much more, than words could ever say,
So I'll just let my piano play.

