This is my world And these are the plans I've made
This is the life I've found worth living
After you went away

This is the place my heart lies easy
And the past can finally fade
So don't come around here making any memories
Unless you're here to stay
No, don't come around here making any memories
Unless you promise me you'll stay

Walking up those old roads
I feel your touch, smell your sweet embrace
I can see your smile
Look into your eyes as you touch my face
But down in my new town
I walk around and feel the peace
Precious memories, they don't haunt me now
So if you'd kindly leave

Because this is my world
And these are the plans I've made
This is the life I've found worth living
After you went away

This is the place my heart lies easy
And the past can finally fade
So don't come around here making any memories
Unless you're here to stay
No don't come here making any memories
Unless you promise me you'll stay
