Do you know which way the wind will blow?
Do you hold the seasons in your hand?
Can you make the moon refuse to shine?
Do you walk with the Divine?

I've seen you looking in the sky
Tracing over rainbows, kissing fireflies
The stars will never shine so bright
You're the nature of my life

Do you call the rain to wash the night?
Do the waters rise to find your soul?
In the columns of the morning light
You are the promised gold

I've seen you looking in the sky
Tracing over rainbows, kissing fireflies
The stars will never shine so bright
You're the nature of my life
I've seen you looking in the sky
Whispering into creation's lullaby
There is something eternal hidden in your eyes
We've just begun to fly beyond the sun

I've seen you looking in the sky
Tracing over rainbows, kissing fireflies
The stars will never shine so bright
You're the nature of my life

I've seen you looking in the sky
Tracing over rainbows, kissing fireflies
The stars will never shine so bright
You're the nature of my life

You're the nature of my life
You're the nature of my life
Oh, you're the nature of my life
Of my life
