What if I let myself fall?
And what if the stars don't agree?
Would the world stop?
Or would it spin around without us?
Would it spin around you, without me?

Well, our heroes have all been traded in
They can't think of what they used to be
So we look around and pray for salvation
While they search for a light out at sea

So, we take one leap for the bottom
And I pray your hope's not forgotten
And it's too much to say, I need you this way
But tomorrow, you're already gone
And I can't move on

I talk to you in my mind while I lie down
I wish you could hear all the words you'd said
Without knowing, they've traveled the world in my ears

As I take one leap for the bottom
And I pray your hope's not forgotten
And it's too much to say, I need you this way
Tomorrow, you're already gone
And I have to move on

I've never known of a world where Someone like me could fall down
To only be caught
Don't know how, you turned on the light
And now, I can see

So I take one leap for the bottom
And I know your hope's long forgotten
And it's too much to say, I need you this way
'Cause tomorrow, oh tomorrow
You're already gone
And I have to move on
