Same old place as the last year
Waiting for the morning

How do we end up here
Speaking the same story

Half the world is sleeping
Half the world is quiet

Same old place as the last year
Tomorrow we will try

Cause there's the sun
Don't go away
It isn't done
Until we say
Everything we mean to do
All of it
We thought we knew
What are we supposed to do
We want everything

Promises were spoken
All has been forgotten

Plant the seeds you're holding
Another year to grow them

Cause there's the sun
Don't go away

It isn't done
Until we say

Everything we mean to do
All of it, we thought we knew

What are we supposed to do
We want everything
We want everything
We want everything

It's not enough
The thing we wanted
Is not the same
It always changes
It always changes
Everything we mean to do

All of it, we thought we knew
What are we supposed to do
We want everything
We want everything
We want everything
