Settle down, you just met her tonight
Don't allow the ones before to make you lose sight
The past is the past
Leave it all behind

You've been given this chance for tomorrow
You just saw an angel fall from the skies

In her eyes you see the morning
And you know theres no ignoring her now
And she's standing there
White dress, flower in her hair
You just stare and watch the light dance on her shoulders bare

Past is past
Leave it all behind
You've been given this chance
For tomorrow
And you just saw an angel that falls from the skies
In her eyes you see the morning
And you know theres no ignoring her now

How to conserve this
Do you deserve this
You never know
And now look one last time
She's now the past time
She's taken your soul

You just saw an angel fall from the skies
In her eyes you see the morning
And you know there's no ignoring her now

Cause you just saw an angel fall from the skies
In her eyes you see the morning
And you know there's no ignoring her now
