the spell from your hell has been cast it seems your past is gonna last so take the mask away from your weary eyes or you'll become what you despise you're running around this ring of fire you're not as young as you once were damn you look tired, but how'd you get here?
you're running with speed
you fall apart with every heart, you're dying to meet and all the time you talk about the way you feel we're sick of what you reveal you said that you were gonna grow, well i still wait to see it show you're getting high and wondering what it's like to be the older version of me

you're running around this ring of fire
damn you look tired, but how'd you get here
we're sick of what you reveal, how'd you get here you're running with speed, you fall apart with every heart you're dying to meet
and all the time you talk about the way you feel
