"Over And Over"

Morning comes and you're rolling over inside my head
Crashing walls and a break of thunder above our bed
While the light pouring through the window just bleeds my brain
Of the thoughts as they soak our pillows, and you complain

I'm laying on the ground, on the ground
And you're coming around
And I don't want no part of this
Don't bother this
I said it over and over
Laying on the floor, lay me down
And you're coming for more
And I don't want no part of this
Don't bother this
I said it over and over

When the hardest place to take the knife
In the back it stays like a lover's eyes
And I warned you
And I said "Think twice"
Just can't break through
I tried to break you

Darkness falls and you're making your trailways beneath my skin
Claws out and a shotgun stare that burns holes in the wind
While the moon's jumping through the window, down onto my soul
Lights the path that you know you must take to make me lose thought control

I'm laying on the ground, on the ground
And you're coming around
And I don't want no part of this
Don't bother this
I said it over and over
Laying on the floor, lay me down
And you're coming for more

And I don't want no part of this
Don't bother this
I said it over and over

When the hardest place to take the knife
In the back it stays like a lover's eyes
And I warned you
And I said "Think twice"
I tried to break you

I said it over and over
I said it over and over and over and over and over and over and over and over I said it over and over and over and over and over and over

When the hardest place to take the knife
In the back it stays like your lover's eyes
And I warned you
I just can't break you
