My love

I had so much to say but now it's lost
My words still burn inside at such a cost
We had so little time to show our love
And it were never enough
Never enough

And all the time spent
On tears and laughter
Through all the hard times
You held me when I cried
And our investment in happy ever after
Has come to nothing
It's over
It's over, it's over

Refrain:

Home, won't you please come home
I can't get used to being without you
Home, please come home
How can I go on and still love you?

My love

If only you were here with me tonight
Then I could say those things and put us right
I see your smiling face in my mind's eye
Oh, I want you back
Please come back

And all the time spent
On tears and laughter
Through all the hard times
You held me when I cried
And our investment in happy ever after
Has come to nothing
It's over
It's over, it's over

Refrain:

Home, won't you please come home
I can't get used to being without you

Home, please come home
How can I go on and still love you?
