He shares my blood
He holds my soul
With he ever know, ever know
He's cutting his own skin

He's my brother
Comes straight from my mother
He's stronger than he thinks he is
Let him know, let him know

I pray to God, will he help him
Does he deserve this? I don't know
At times he comes across selfish
But he ain't a bad person, this I know

His lies, his cheats, his stealing
Makes me cry till I stop breathing
He simply lost his mind
Lord, Im asking you Lord, will you help him find it?

And I said find a will and you'll find a way
I live by that each and every day
Daniel would you listen to the words I say
Writing this was harder than you'd ever think

You got a heart
You got a mind
You got a soul
And your eyes are kind
Your eyes are kind, and your eyes are kind

Daniel would you listen to the word I say
Writing this was harder than you'd ever think
