A message comes down... it's a warning
It's not your time, oh no it ain't but it's coming
Now what makes us think, we're here forever
When life is gone, life is gone, before you know it's over

A church in the rain... a sad congregation
An old friend I knew
When I look at the end... I understand now
I got livin' to do... there's still livin' to do

With every breath, comes deeper meaning
I don't wanna waste, I don't wanna waste, one single minute
Tears fall from the sky, angles are cryin'
They cry for those... who don't know that they're dyin'

I wait for the sun... a chance at a new day
There's no time to lose
When I look at the end... I understand now
I got lovin' to do... there's still lovin' to do
When I look at the end... I understand now
I got lovin' to do...
Whoa...
There's still livin' to do
