So I think I got it all in place now
No distractions under control
Yet theres something missing inside me
Im chasing shadows of myself
And the clocks are ticking
Oh my world is spinning
Spinning round and round
And round and round again

And I try
I try to reason why
Dont you know I cant go on this way
Baby
please dont walk away there is this place
Where I toss away my pride

So you can see that Im the one
To take you to a higher place this time

I am on the outside looking in
To a place where I will be
Let me give you what you need from me
I surrender my soul to you
And my heart is pounding
And a fires burning
And my head is spinning, round and round again

And I try

I try to reason why
Dont you know I cant go on this way
Baby please dont walk away there is this place
Where I toss away my pride

So you can see that Im the one
To take you to a higher place this time

Oh, I crash... and burn inside my mind
It happens time and time again, I cant explain the way you make me feel
Oh,
I know... I dont have much to give

But what I have I give to you with all the madness left inside of me
With the madness left inside of me... oh

And I try
I try to reason why
Dont you know I cant go on this way
Baby please dont walk away there is this place
Where I toss away my pride
So you can see that Im the one
To take you to a higher place this time
