One light shining bright, it's made from many colors
Just like, every oceans made from many drops of rain One soul takes many shapes, to make up the human race
One fire, many lives share the same sun every day

All beliefs let us down, many roads lead to Heaven One love, many faiths all share a world in search of grace
Across the universe, the same force that moves the Earth's
In my heart, makes me whole wash my doubt and fear away

In a big deep blue sky, on a beautiful day Where the moment is now, there's perfection in every way

Feel it flow through me Tantra my eyes can see where we don't belong
Tantra watch over me

Like a bird on her wing
Like the eye of a storm
It's the circle of life
When every child's born

I get caught up in time, I lose all reality A prisoner of my own design, when my freedom is where I choose to be

Look for some kind of sign from the heavens above, I hear one voice
I am the love i choose to love

Feel it flow through me
Tantra my eyes can see
Where we don't belong
Tantra watch over me

Like roses in bloom

Like mountains of majesty
Like an orange harvest moon Wonders for all to see

Look for some kind of sign from the heavens above, I
hear one voice
I am the love i choose to love yeah

Feel it flow through me
Tantra my eyes can see
where we don't belong

Feel it flow through me
Tantra watch over me

Across the universe, the same force that moves the Earth's
