Is it looking Good? Looking right
you can't see me

Chorus

My perspective is a bird's eye view
Meaning you ain't looking at me when I'm looking at
you
Crooked angles logged all up in my book
Of logistics tales in the places we done took it

Like this shit
Niggaz will do this to get attention
Flashing and flossing, fronting like they rich with No intellectual enrichment
They pull up to the light thinking it's all right
And get their wigs split
By the local town jacker
Act the fool smack the fool with the back of the tool
Doing dirt not caring who he hurt not Even unaware the gunshots came tearing through his shirt
From one of the many people that he robbed before
At the same intersection
Now with his chest blown into sections
He realizes the wrong of his ways as a victim of one that he victimized who Didn't know the boys in blue
Was alerted of the murder when they heard the noize
Plus seen the sparks when they rushed to the scene
The hero was still there so his ass got caught

Chorus

And my perspective is a bird's eye view
Meaning you ain't looking at me when I'm looking at
you
Crooked angles logged all up in my book
Of logistics tales in the places we done took it

Like sideways
Peddle to the medal on the highway
Trying to escape the bird of the ghetto

I can't settle for federal indictment
You think I'm head over heels
For fake thrills
Pseudo excitement?
Never gave me a bit of enlightenment
But I must be liberated to keep my life like lit
So I stay smarter than the average bear
Without a boo-boo, a fuck or a care
Just aware
Of what's around
Whenever my feet touch the ground
I'm mentally muscle bound
With wit, wisdom
Precision and vision and myself in prison
Isn't it all how I'm living?

Chorus

So my perspective is a bird's eye view
Meaning you ain't looking at me when I'm looking at
you
Crooked angles logged all up in my book
Of logistics tales in the places we done took it

From over here to over there
But sad while feared
Dastardly, daring debonaire
I got the master key to the game that claim is locked
But I kick in the door with my trigger gun cock
You never knew
What I would do
To get the revenue
I'd watch 'cha til I got 'cha
Then I'll let it lose
Like propositions, bills and laws
They make to break y'all
But still we ball
Going all out
Never the fan to fall out
My energy peeks for weeks
And what I seek is
Height and awareness, fine tune and perception
A slippable style with a smile - perfection

Chorus x2

My perspective is a bird's eye view
Meaning you ain't looking at me when I'm looking at
you
Crooked angles logged all up in my book
Of logistics tales in the places we done took it

you can't see me
